

Diana Bromley — 23rd November 2013

I worked for almost forty years, first as a teacher and then as an in house lawyer and company secretary. Having now retired, I would like to use some of the extra time I have and the skills I have acquired over a long and happy working life, to support this small and inspirational charity. I look forward to working with a friendly and dedicated team.

Mike Sims — 9th May 2016

I currently work for The Poetry Society as Publishing Manager, a publicly funded National Portfolio Organisation. My career history includes sales and marketing roles in book publishing and I've also worked as a journalist, copywriter, editor and production manager on magazines. I hope my experience can help raise the profile of The Limes, which is so valuable a social and learning space for my son Linden. I'd like to do what I can to help safeguard its future – for Linden and all the other young people for whom it's such an important, energising place. I have lived in Walthamstow since 1999.

Florence Andrews — 8th May 2017

I have always worked with public and community focused organisations and started my career in a similar organisation to The Limes. It is vital that there are places in our borough, which provide a safe and supportive environment for children and young people to grow, develop their confidence and have fun. I am a project manager working with national museums, local authorities and charitable organisations to deliver heritage and cultural projects which result in organisational change and capital works. I hope I can use my experience to support The Limes to be sustainable in order to continue all its fantastic work

Sayara Muthuveloe — 8th May 2017

I wanted to get involved with The Limes because after becoming a mother I understood the importance of providing children and young people the opportunity and space to realise their potential. I believe that The Limes is a great place to enable this to happen. I currently work for a medical charity managing their fundraising and marketing activities and prior to this I have worked as a marketing consultant working with a wide range of charities. As a trustee I hope that my skills and experience will complement that of the team so that together we can ensure that The Limes continues to be a place for the children and young people of Walthamstow.

Angela Mitten (CHAIR) — 8th May 2017

I have managed property for over 20 years, mainly for UK-based charities and international NGOs, and I have been responsible for all sorts of buildings all over the world, including kindergartens, schools and other teaching facilities for children and young people. In becoming a trustee, I hope I can contribute some of my professional expertise to helping The Limes maintain and secure the future of its buildings. I have lived in Walthamstow since 2001, and also have a local allotment where I grow flowers, fruit and vegetables.

Waqas Hussain (TREASURER) — 15th June 2019

I am a born and bred 'Stowie', having lived in Walthamstow for over 30 years. I have a keen interest in local issues, and find the work of The Limes fascinating. It is an absolute necessity that there are places within the local community which provide safe spaces for children and young people, with or without disabilities, to play, learn, develop and achieve.

As a qualified accountant, and having worked with local charities for over 5 years now, I feel I have the skills and experience to help the organisation maintain a sound financial footing, and remain sustainable going forward, to achieve its objectives and be able to service the local community.
